• Selecting an app from the Action category is a good decision. These apps are generally user-friendly and have functions that are easy to understand. However, you can get the app for free by downloading InDesign CS5 or CS6 for Mac and then visiting the official Facebook app page. Unfortunately, the developer has not made the app available for Windows. However, you can use the free Mac version to continue working and then transfer any work to your Windows computer. You need to be logged in to a Facebook account in order to use the free version. After you're finished using the free version
